

NOTHING MORE TO WEEP

Lyrics written by: Edwin Fokkema (FOKK_it)

I'm, Looking at myself
I'm so fragile and small
Just like an empty shell
In pieces, thrown at a ice cold wall
My eyes empty darkness, dried out
My voice small, speaking, nothing to hear
Trying to speak up loud even shout
But my body frozen and filled to the bones with fear
My biggest fear is happening here
Feels like our end is near!

Hm
Why did you have the need
To say goodbye and leave me
Your heartless and cold deed
Left me here for everyone to see
Your hope is gone
Mine to keep
Written in this song
Nothing more to weep

Oeh, Oeh

There's really no one else
Is what you whisper to my soul
Are you really by yourself?
So what's the real goal?
We were building our future as one
Stronger together, filled with love
Why is this life suddenly dead and gone?
My hands praying to the sky above
The love is gone
Like a window crashing dove
Once cared for with love

Ah, Oeh

Why did you have the need
To say goodbye and leave me
Your heartless and cold deed
Left me here for everyone to see
Your hope is gone
Mine to keep
Written in this song
Nothing more to weep

Oeh, Oeh

You have to say goodbye
Life running out of my wound
Still don't understand why
Our lives no longer sync and tuned
Take all you want even my soul
It's empty and drained out
You were the one making me whole
The truth is hard and loud
Makes me want to hit you even shout
What the fuck is this all about

Why did you have the need
To say goodbye and leave me
Mine to keep
Written in this song
Nothing more to weep

Oeh, Oeh

You and me in the dark
Nothing to hit me, just to deep
Looking, clinging on to that spark
Holding on, I need you to keep
Keep me

Ah
Ah
Ah
