

LOCKED UP iN MY HEAD

Lyrics written by: Edwin Fokkema (FOKK_it)

Lets hide
Lets hide

Why
Why
Why

The day I was born
I knew I was different
Like a old soul, a lifetime worn
So young, and so ignorant

Locking my self up from life
Feeling all alone in this world
No where to run, just to hide
Why does this world feel cold

Locked up in my head
My safe space to hide
Just feeling numb, dead
Just sitting on my bedside
The dark side getting fed
So sad

Not easy to grow up in the dark
Light's needed to be seen, to grow
Always on the look for that spark
But it's to fast and I'm to slow

My life, filled with emptiness
Only violence on my journey
Yellow brick road of loneliness
Nothing more to feel, being unworthy

Locked up in my head
My safe space to hide
Just feeling numb, dead
Just sitting on my bedside
The dark side getting fed
So sad

I'm different, nothing like you
That makes this world colourful
My lock up is long over due
Just look at me, I'm wonderful

Time to let myself be seen
Stand right up, into the light
I'm loving this new scene
Just doing what's feeling right

Oh

Time to spread love, so pure
And let them see the real me
Yes this is all of me, for sure
No longer, my own abductee

Ah

No longer to hide
Filled with pride
New loved found in this life
My life

Just cleared my head
No longer to hide
Feeling alive, not dead
Loving this new found side
My love is getting fed
Not Sadness

True love
Is loving myself
Not something from above
But within yourself